COOL ME, COOL DOG

Helen Blair of Dorchester didn't forget that Teddy, her dog, was feeling the heat, too, today, so she took him right along with her when she went for a cooling dip at Malibu beach, Dorchester. Out of the water they come together, refreshed and full of renewed pep.

Mercury at 98 Equals Record

Heat wave death toll mounted to 35 persons this afternoon as the mercury reached the 98 mark at 3 p. m., recording the hottest day of the year.

The thermometer was three degrees higher than on June 1, and equaled the all-time high mark of 98 degrees for this date made a year ago.

Saving a sudden shift of the wind to the east, there was an immediate relief in prospect, although the weather bureau said it might be cooler late tomorrow with possible showers.

The State House and City Hall in Boston cut down from 100 to 75 degrees and at least a million persons were on North and South Shore beaches by mid-afternoon.

TWO BOYS DROWN
Latest deaths recorded were those of two 12-year-old boys, who were drowned in what is known as First Reservoir, Southbridge. They were last seen on the shore at 10 a. m. and were found at 10:30 a. m.

From the fishing schooner Benjamin Latham, came word of the first deaths of Alex Conrad, 11-year-old boy, who collapsed in the water.

Clark Gable Plans Daring Boat Race
Portland, Idaho, July 8 (AP)—Clark Gable screen hero here to launch a boat race today.

The plan is to race a 100-foot boat, 120 miles below the equator and southwest of Honolulu.

From the vicinity of Window Reef, the Colorado could expect to find a search of many miles and reefs in the northern Phoenix Islands.

NEAR ECLIPSE ISLAND
Within flying distance to the southwest would be Canton Island, site of the recent South Pacific Eclipse expedition.

Some naval officers consider it the most likely spot to look for the flicker.

What Coast Guard officials in San Francisco described as the most promising developments in the way of another radio message was reported last night from Conrad, Montana.

Ray Haynes, Conrad's companion, who worked the Great Falls Tribune, said at 10:40 p. m. (10 a. m. Thursday, E. D. T.) he heard a voice once giving a position and saying "All well."

POSITION GIVEN
A few minutes later, he said, he picked up a second message, which he gave as follows:
"Position 173 west longitude and 5 south latitude."

Lulu Wright of the Tribune editorial staff immediately noted in his list at 2:00 a. m. that he had heard a voice, presumably a man, but could not distinguish the words.

Coast guard officials at San Francisco and the message appeared promising for two reasons. First, the longitude and latitude intersects a spot approximately where they believe the missing plane is down. Second, the wording of the message sounded authentic.

Ray Admiral C. D. Martin, 14th Naval District commander and director of the search, predicted success or failure of the operations should be determined by mid-afternoon Monday.

Reitering the belief of many experts and on the mainland, that the plane was down.

NAUTICAL PLANES START AIR SEARCH

Honolulu, July 8 (AP)—The mightiest peace-time search of the United States Navy was launched today for Amelia Earhart, missing round-the-world flier, who, officials hope, is awaiting rescue on a coral reef or sandpit somewhere southeast of tiny Howland Island.

The battleship Colorado, cruiser and six destroyers, were dispatched to the three fighting planes last night to open the aerial phase of the hunt.

The Colorado aircraft returned to the battleship after 2 hours and 20 minutes and reported no trace had been sighted of the missing plane or of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan.

The planes planned to resume their search today at dawn, 1:30 p. m. E. D. T., circling over Window Reef, 120 miles below the equator and southwest of Honolulu.

From the vicinity of Window Reef, the Colorado could expect to find a search of many miles and reefs in the northern Phoenix Islands.

Man in West St. Room Battered by Bandits

During a ten-minute battle in his fourth-floor office on West street, Robert J. Kelley, 42, of Federal street, Back Bay, was mugged over the head and beaten this afternoon by two bandits, one of whom was armed.

The pair fled without getting any money, a few minutes before Joseph Hadden, in an adjoining office, heard Kelley's screams and found the victim lying in a pool of blood.

Kelley had been repeatedly hit on the head by the bandits, who fled up the stairs, leaving Kelley on the floor by the door.

At Hadden's Hotel, Station Kelley, a clothing commission, was found suffering from 15 head wounds and with bruising of the arms, hands and body.

"I would have killed them before giving them the money," Kelley was quoted in police as saying at the hospital.

According to police, Kelley was seated behind his desk when the two thugs entered.

"This is a holdup," the bandit with the gun told him.

In the next instant Kelley lunged at the gun, but the bandit pulled the trigger, hitting Kelley in the arm.

Wheeler, Logan In Court Clash

Washington, July 8—A furious row broke out in the Senate this afternoon as administration leaders scored notice they would invoke every parliamentary technicality to crush opposition to the judicial reorganization bill.

This was provoked by a personal attack on Senator Logan (D., Kentucky) and Senator Wheeler (D., Montana), in which the latter came close to "passing the lid" to his Kentucky colleague.

Logan first charged Wheeler with having deceived the liberal cause and pining reactionaries.

Four members of a Nelson family of five were trapped and drowned today when their automobile crashed through a bridge rail and somersaulted into 30 feet of water near Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

DEAD
WALLES, EDWARD, 43, instructor, of 501 Auburn street, Auburn.

WALLES, MRS. ELLIE E. M. wife.

WALLES, ESTHER, their daughter.

WALLES, ESTHER, another daughter.

RESCUED
WALLES, ESTHER, 11, school teacher and Boston University graduate.

Kelley, only surviving member of the family, escaped through one of the open windows of the sedan, as the car plunged to the bottom of an unbroken canal.

She was pulled out of the water by Philip Newstead, of Forest Lawn, Alberta, who saw the accident.

"The car struck a rut going about 15 miles an hour," said Newstead. "This threw it into a skid against the bridge rail. It went right through the rail and I ran in the edge and saw it go in the bottom of the canal."

Then as I waited for signs of life this girl appeared on the surface and I got her out, but nobody else came up."

She was dazed and shocked and was immediately removed to a Calgary hospital.

The bodies of her father and mother and two sisters were recovered by police and firemen who gripped for the automobile and shored it up.

TRIP PLANNED YEARS
The family of five were heading westward toward the Canadian Rockies on a trip they had been planning for several years.

When the tragedy occurred they were on the Chateaux Lake Highway, only three miles from Calgary, where they planned a stop for lunch.

The rescued girl was graduated from Austin High School in 1935 and from Boston University School of Education in 1937. She was a brilliant student and U. S. her senior year was elected to Phi Lambda Theta, honorary society.

She is employed as a teacher at a private home, Englewood.

Her father was employed as a lawyer in Portland with headquarters in Newton Center post office.

Mae West Faces Division of Cash With 'Ex'-Mate

Los Angeles, July 8 (U.S.)—A startling aftermath, perhaps involving hundreds of thousands of dollars, today loomed in the marital status of buxom Mae West, film star, who admitted yesterday she had been wed for 26 years to Frank Wallace, New York vaudevillean.

Her admission after repeated denials that she is the wife of Wallace may cost her half of all her earnings during her Hollywood film career. Under California law a husband or wife is entitled to 50 per cent of the other's earnings. The vaudevillean has let it be known that he seeks his share in Mae West's "community property," which he asserts is "worth more than $100,000." In view of the actress' tremendous salaries for the past few years the share would probably run into much more than that amount. In 1935 alone she made $48,000.

ADMITS WEDDING

Mae West, made the unexpected admission in answering a suit brought by Wallace in an effort to divide her earnings. "I never married Frank Wallace or anyone else. I was a school girl in 1911, too young to marry. I can't understand it," Wallace said in 1936 in New York city in 1936 because the papers could not be served properly. The actor then came here and began the litigation brought to a climax by the sensational disclosure.

To his complaint, Wallace attached what purported to be a copy of the marriage license showing that he was 21 and Mae West was 18 when they were wed. According to those figures, Mae West now is 44.

Wallace asserted that following his marriage to Mae West, then in vaudeville, they lived together as man and wife until about March 10, 1914. Then the actor charges, without cause on the part of the plaintiff, the defendant ceased to live with him.

NOT UNDER OATH
Miss West's answer was filed by Attorney Charles E. Milken. The lawyer pointed out that the actress' denial of the marriage, although frequent and pointed, never has been under oath.

The next act in the spectacular drama is set for Friday when Mae West is scheduled to give a deposition in the office of Wallace's attorney, Avery M. Blount. Previously, she has a little trouble about the deposition matter. Miss West, after a day of court, refused to vouchsafe any information save her name and address.

She filed a contempt of court citation, but in the meantime the original suit Wallace filed here was thrown out of court on the ground that it was filed under the wrong statute.

A new complaint was drawn and filed under the correct statute and that, apparently, turned off the fireworks.

HER BANK ACCOUNT IN DANGER

Proposals of marriage and for a movie career showered down on blonde and pretty Isabelle Hallin, Saugus teacher, facing ouster action partly because of town gossip that a student's cocktail party was held at her home.

The 23-year-old instructor in dramatics at Saugus high school has been "cleared" of the cocktail party stigma by the school board meeting which demanded her resignation, but nevertheless, Miss Hallin wants a public hearing.

Joining her today in her fight for complete clearing of her name was her father, C. Fred Hallin, who has been ill in a sanatorium, but who left there to be at his daughter's side.

"The whole thing is preposterous," declared Hallin, and stated the only time the small son in the Hallin home has heard was three years ago, when he celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary.

SCREEN TEST OFFER
In addition to "teaching more than 100 pupils, some of them from Harvard students and some proposing marriage, Isabelle received today that the New York agents for Fred Allen, Tyrone Power, Jr. and other noted personages on the entertainment world have asked her to go under their banner and take a screen test.

The school teacher promised to consider the offer, but declined to do so until her name has been cleared at a hearing.

Meanwhile, Walter R. Russell, one of the committee opposing her, declared that there are no charges against her and that she is not a teacher.

It is unusual, he said, to grant a hearing to one who will be given a hearing, although not entitled to demand one under the statutes.

CHARGE MISFEASANCE
The cocktail charge against Miss Hallin was withdrawn by Mr. Maria Smith, 23-year-old ex-teacher and member of the school board.

Miss Smith insisted, however, that she still seeks Miss Hallin's resignation on the ground that she is not fit for teaching.

None of the parents withdrew charges that she had entertained members of the high school dramatic club, with a cocktail party in her home was received publicly by the blonde beauty.

"It was too odd to rehearse in the school house," she said. "I invited the dramatic club to my cellar parlor home. But certainly, I was not silly enough to serve cocktails to the high school students."

Perhaps the cause of all the trouble was that her father's father built under the staircase. It supplied an excellent straw for gossiping to snatch at and finally became a strong talking point against the teacher.

"I wanted terribly to win this fight, because I felt that my reputation even my whole future, was at stake," Miss Hallin said. "I know I could never have gotten another job as a teacher if I had been discharged from the school."

But the majority of Saugus citizens sided with Miss Hallin. It is evidenced by the signatures of nearly 300 voters on a petition protesting the ouster action.

The Hallin family has had quite a storm of bad luck recently. Isabelle's mother and father have both been in a hospital, her mother recovering from an appendicitis operation and her father from a nervous breakdown.

HAPPY AT FILM CHANCE
Her younger brother, Laurence, has just been released from a hospital and Isabelle herself is not yet entirely recuperating from a wound from a fall of last spring.

But this hard luck has been more than counterbalanced in the past few days by an opportunity to take Hollywood by storm.

Isabelle was overjoyed at the call she received from the south since she has long intended to go over since she played leading roles in Trinity College productions.

Tidal Wave Wipes Out A City

South Seas Disaster Revealed; 700 Dead

San Francisco, July 8 (U.S.)—A tidal wave, earthquake and series of volcanic eruptions have destroyed the prosperous city of Rabaul, New Britain, largest German commercial port in the Pacific, with a population of 6000.

Staggering property losses and a death toll feared to be 700 were incurred, a confidential radio report revealed here exclusively to International News Service, said today.

Homes of hundreds of German settlers and several thousand natives were destroyed and the port city has been in ruins for five weeks, virtually a "second Pompeii," the report said.

ON ISOLATED ISLAND

Rabaul is the chief city on the island of New Britain, a large, isolated island, a mandate of Australia, situated northwest of Australia, between New Guinea and the Solomon Islands.

Garbled radio messages from San Francisco, sent through the Douglas Golden Bear, a week ago, first reported destruction of the city.

According to today's message, a tidal wave struck the port May 28, destroying the harbor and killing several hundred persons.

This was followed the next day by a volcanic eruption, which created a new volcano in the harbor.

RAINS CUT CANYONS

Torrential rains cutting three canyons through the island followed the "unusual" storm. Many other, larger, of three volcanoes have been reported.

On June 4, all three volcanoes burst into activity, burying the city in lava.

The Golden Bear, long offshore, rescued 150 Europeans, mostly Germans, and 2000 natives, with the aid of a small steamer, the Monterey.

The refugees were taken to Rabaul and landed.

NEEDED CASH TO WED, SAYS BANDIT SUSPECT

Desire to get enough money to marry a Danvers girl led a 22-year-old youth, suspected of a series of 13 daring holdups, to embark upon a career of crime, police stated today.

The youth, Alexander Santoussos, 22, of Dwight street, South End, was arrested last night after William Mackley, 17, a grocery clerk who was held up and robbed of $2 told police the bandit had taken packs on both forearms.

Special Officer Edward Brabant, remembered a youth he had quizzed several years ago in connection with holdups who answered that description.

With Special Officer Martin Marahan he went to a South End lodging house and arrested Santoussos.

According to the arresting officer, the youth admitted to the holdups declaring he needed the money to marry his sweetheart.

TROOPS GUARD MILL AFTER 2 DIE IN RIOT

Alcoa, Tenn., July 8 (UPI)—National Guard troops were on duty here today after two men had been killed and 21 others wounded in a gun battle between strikers and police guards at the Alcoa plant of the Aluminum Company of America.

The riot followed a "back to work" movement at the plant by 1000 workers of the 2000 employees who have been on strike for increased wages. The union involved is an affiliate of the A. F. L.

The dead men were identified as Harrison Kline, a striker, and W. M. Hunt, 42, special officer. Of the wounded, sixteen were strikers and three police officers.

Adlt. Gen. H. O. Smith ordered the company of the Tennessee National Guard, consisting of 40 officers and men, here from Knoxville, 16 miles distant. The militia is equipped with machine guns and tear gas bombs and the authorities expressed the belief that there would be no further trouble.

TOWER DYNAMITED

The fighting came a few hours after an electric transmission tower belonging to the company was dynamited.

Witnesses said the riot at the plant gained momentum shortly after noon when pickets closed in on a truck attempting to transport their lines. There were 400 men on the picket line, it was estimated.

A squad of 30 policemen, headed by Chief A. J. Lavelly, rushed to the scene. Clubs were swung freely. Police charged later that many of the pickets and sympathizers were armed with iron bars, hickory clubs and blackjacks.

POLICE OPEN FIRE

In the clash the police drew their pistols and fired over the heads of the crowd, witnesses stated. Several of the policemen were disarmed and when the pickets turned the officers' own guns on them, their police comrades fired into the crowd.

Republic Opens Last Of Strike-Closed Mills

Cleveland, July 8 (AP)—"Little Steel" dispute with organized labor was largely a legal fight for as Republic Steel Corporation reopened the last of its strike-closed mills.

On scattered fronts the steel workers' organizing committee sought to buy through suits and charges its fight for signed contracts.

Steel & Tube, Inc., employing normally about 500 men and smaller at Republic's Ohio Cleveland unit, was opened to workers while the Ohio National Guardsmen formed a protective circle at the mill.

The other three Republic plants have resumed operations Tuesday.

Wool Firm Reported Ready to Quit State

A threat by wool dealers to take their business out-of-state was seen today by reported plans of one firm affected by the four-week wool handlers strike to close its warehouses and move to another city.

With the strike deadlocked, this firm, employing 40 men and one that moves great volumes of wool yearly through Boston plans, announced its decision to pack up and move out, according to reports.

Reports circulating along the waterfront that a general or "bull" strike would be called as a sympathy movement toward the woolhandlers, were denied by Daniel Donovan, vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Ship Yards Reopen In Defiance to CIO

New York, July 8 (AP)—Two of three metropolitan area ship yards, strike-bound for three weeks, resumed work today in defiance of a CIO union while the third pointed out it would resume Monday.

The resumption was ordered as police watched pickets posted at the Rotine Drydock and Repair Company in Brooklyn and the Tatum and Lane Shipyards in Hoboken, N. J.

Seattle Star Resumes Publication Friday

Seattle, July 8 (AP)—James Scripps, treasurer of the Scripps League of Newspapers, announced early today the Seattle Star plant at its strike-bound plant at 6 a. m., Friday.

His announcement followed a promise by Mayor John F. Dore to use police to disperse picket lines, a resolution by the Central Labor Council condemning the strike.

Scripps said no agreement had been reached with the American Newspaper Guild which called the strike Saturday.

The Guild called the strike after 18 members employed in the newspaper's circulation department were removed and given other assignments and replaced by members of a teamsters' union affiliate.

UNCOVER 'ARSENAL' IN CHARLESTOWN

An arsenal containing a shotgun, gun, revolver, boxes of ammunition and blueprints on how to build a machine gun was uncovered in the home of a Charlestown youth today by police of the Back Bay station investigating a stolen car.

Police went to the house following a call from Wilmington authorities that they were holding a youth giving the Charlestown address. In connection with a car reported stolen in the Back Bay yesterday afternoon.

In the house, according to police, were found a .38-caliber German automatic, a .22-caliber "Smith" revolver, an imitation .45 automatic made of lead pipe, a single-barrel shotgun with a detachable stock, enabling it to be carried under a coat, a bandolier with a dozen rounds of ammunition and several boxes of cartridges for the revolver.

Police also said they discovered cartridges from a Chicago mail order house, blueprints on the "proper way to build a machine gun" and two pamphlets.

In a room of the house, police declared, were found a Boston police department manual, a special officer's gold badge and a Hull fire department badge.

According to Wilmington police, the youth was taken into custody after he and another youth jumped out of their parked car near Silver Lake and ran into the woods when they spotted the officers.

The second youth escaped but one of the officers, in his search, saw another car speeding away containing two other men. Recognizing the car as the one reported stolen, the officer took down the registration and later learned the car was registered to the brother of the Charlestown youth.

The brother, 21, two years older than the youth taken into custody in Wilmington, was arrested in the Charlestown house by police who discovered the firearms. According to his automobile registration, police said he lives in Hull and authorities of that town were notified to search his rooms.

The brothers were looked on as suspicion of larceny of an auto and will be placed in the lineup at headquarters tomorrow. Police said that the five victims of the $15,000 holdup in Sam's Restaurant, Nantasket, Tuesday morning, will view the pair.

Cheering Scouts Hail Roosevelt

Washington, July 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt motored between packed lines of cheering Boy Scouts today to climax a ten day national jamboree.

Troop flags dipped, hands waved and hundreds of boys waved their hats as the President's automobile, leading a cavalcade of government officials, moved slowly for two miles on Constitution avenue.

MAYORALTY BID FOR AL SMITH

New York, July 8 (AP)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, was mentioned today as a possible Tammany candidate for the New York mayoralty this fall to oppose Fiorella H. LaGuardia, Fusion incumbent.

With Democratic leaders here convinced United States Senator Robert F. Wagner will refuse to carry the Tammany banner, a scheduled meeting of the city's five county Democratic leaders to agree on a candidate was called off today.

Instead, it was learned, Tammany Leader James J. Dowling will first consult Smith, arriving from Europe late today on the United States liner Manhattan.

Should Smith decline to run, his advice and influence will be asked to help bring order into a Democratic situation fast developing into a free-for-all in New York city.

An Democratic unrest appeared on the increase. Republican factions were reported on the point of agreeing to back La Guardia. A group of Republicans planned to ask him formally, late today, to run for the Republican nomination.

Special Officer Vernon White and Police Sergeant Francis L. Mullen are shown inspecting a collection of weapons and ammunition allegedly found today in a Charlestown house, where the officers went in question a man about a stolen auto. The "arsenal" includes a shotgun barrel, with stock detached; a .38 calibre automatic pistol; a "snub-nose" .22 calibre revolver; an imitation automatic pistol, made of lead pipe; a bandolier of ammunition and several boxes of cartridges. Also found were a police badge, a fireman's badge and a booklet telling "how to make a machine gun at home."

Lead for Iron In Spain

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Non-intervention in Spain means unmaking in without a lullaby. Like raiding an enemy at midnight, it is an un-scheduled action.

The Spaniards have asked permission to settle their own affairs in their own rough manly way. The efforts of England, Germany, France and Italy to pacify Spain reminds us of the colored man who would have found his last dollar if his friends hadn't helped him to look for it.

What Europe wants in Spanish lead. The lists of killed and wounded indicate that this valuable commodity is worth its weight in Spanish lead.

YOU'LL GET A BANG OUT OF THIS ONE!

DO you get a kick out of a golf ball's click when you really lean into one on the tee?

Does your heart beat faster when the big fish strikes, and your singing reel almost smokes?

Can a brisk breeze and a taut sail make you feel like a kid again, forgetting care in the sheer joy of action?

Mister, if you're like that, what a bang you'll get out of this big Buick!

You'll go for the way it goes for you.

You'll like the quick, eager spurt of its get-away, the buoyant, swayless steadiness of its travel.

You'll thrill to the businesslike manner in which it settles to the pull, its quiet, dogged competence in long, tough going.

You'll welcome the way it cradles you over the bumps, the neat, compact, handily mobile feel of it. You'll be proudly aware of its beauty, of the picture you make riding in its thimble-size.

But don't forget this major thing—it's the buy of the season, price-wise as well as on performance! It's still selling at the lowest price in all Buick history—you can still get a big Buick eight for less than some sixes would cost you.

So don't hold back. Good things, you know, can't last forever. Don't pass up a buy such as Buick is at its low prices now.

HOLD FATHER IN ABANDONMENT

Human Greenstein of Harvard Street, Dorchester, 41-year-old painter and father of seven children, was held for the grand jury in $2000 today by Judge Thomas H. Connelly in Brighton court in connection with the abandoning of an infant last February.

Greenstein's case was continued yesterday for disposition today after he was found guilty on a charge of abandonment and probable cause was found on a charge of conspiracy.

Greenstein was later taken to Roxbury court, was charged with a serious offense involving Miss Mary Treason, 24, of Norfolk street, Cambridge, mother of the alleged abandoned baby and for whom police are searching.

DEATH CHASE DETAILS TOLD

Details of a wild chase from South Boston to Dover street, South End—where death took a hand—were related today in Superior Court by three police officers, witnesses against three youths charged with manslaughter.

On trial, before Judge Joseph Walsh and a jury, are Roland Ford, 18, of Compton street, South End; John T. Ash, 17, of West Broadway, South Boston, and Joseph Norton, 17, of West Fourth street, South Boston.

Police witnesses today were Patrolman Thomas Tucson, driver of the pursuing radio car; Daniel J. Kerr, who fired one shot, and Thomas Tucson.

Officers testified the three youths had been "loping" in a car reported stolen and that they fled South Boston and headed for the South End when the police car took up the pursuit.

In Dover street bridge, Patrolman Kerr fired a shot at the fugitive car, but it continued on, the witness said, until it side-swiped an automobile and then struck and fatally injured the elderly man.

30,000 SPAIN REDS DRIVE ON MADRID

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Border, July 8 (U.S.)—A gigantic battle was raging about a 15-mile front west of Madrid today as 30,000 Spanish government troops drove forward in an effort to lift the siege of the capital, entering its tenth month.

Latest government and insurgent reports reaching the frontier this morning told of a mounting toll of casualties on both sides as what appears to be the biggest government offensive since the civil war began last July.

London, July 8 (INS)—Another sudden meeting of Britain's Imperial Defense Committee was summoned at Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's office at 11 a. m. today to discuss the Mediterranean situation, where suspected Italian maneuvers have aroused British apprehensions for safety of her "life line" to the east.

The committee gathered together especially to discuss precautionary measures to the Mediterranean, in the event of complete collapse of Europe's non-interference scheme, the device which was established months ago to keep Spain's civil war within her boundaries.

NEW WAYS TO LOVELINESS
Cooling Mask of Sea-Green, Foamy Cream

It Brings Morning Freshness to The Skin

By ARLINE GOULD

COMES a time every so often when life seems too difficult to bear, when you shudder at the reflection of your own jaded face in the mirror, and wish you lived in a world where heaven-endowed beauty was mandatory as taxes.

Such a time is very likely to come about now. Especially if you've been careless with your daily beauty chores, or have allowed the sun to bake out nature's oils.

If you have reached the state where it is as arid as the Sahara, it needs a serious taking-in-hand and a very definite "reviver" of some kind or other, or other.

If you have seen the cool, reviving cream it looks exactly like mint mousse that in five short minutes positively whisks away tell-tale lines, it's high time you try it together.

For one thing it's the freshest, coolest affair we've seen this season and it not only lifts your face to the pinnacle of perfection but it will certainly help to give the illusion that you are feeling instead of just looking better.

It must not be confused with make-up or other treatments. It is essentially a "skin reviver" and one five-minute treatment will convince you that your skin's not a bad face considering everything after all.

This delightful affair is a sea-green, foamy cream that does NOT harden, and is easily and quickly removed. In just five minutes time it gives one the equivalent of a complete facial, literally bringing morning freshness to the skin at any time of day.

And in changing a parched, sun-baked complexion into a moist, golden tan it is indeed indispensable. It has both re-vitating and rejuvenating qualities and is the first affair of its kind ever created especially for summer use.

Your first desire upon seeing it will probably be to eat it! It's that delicious to the eyes! And if you are so fascinated as we are about food, connoisseurs in hot-weather, put the cream-jar and all-into the ice box for a few minutes before you use it.

To be of course necessary, but it will certainly help to give the illusion that you are feeling instead of just looking better. It must not be confused with make-up or other treatments. TO CORRECT enlarged pores, use cold water from the tap. A contraction of the tiny fibers under the skin, it starts blood streaming up a shining and has the beneficial effect in other ways. Don't forget that dip plays a large part in the treatment of the skin. Beautifying foods are vegetables, fruits and green salads; however, one must include meat, fish and cereals to have a balanced diet.

Heavy, oily pomades must be avoided if the skin is of delicate texture. Pore should be used sparingly. Not that some have a bad effect upon the texture of the epidermis, but it shows up too plain when pores are large.

The white of an egg has astringent virtues. Beat slightly spread it on a clean sun screen and let it remain until the face feels stretched and taut. Remove with tepid water and tap on a light cream.

ALL eye shadows should be put on lightly to be attractive. A keen eye and a deft hand are necessary for a glamorous effect. Blend in the shadow with the finger tip. Avoid a distinct border line. Keep a small powder pad for the purpose of dimming shadows. And please do reserve the coloring for evening. Daylight plays havoc with a woman's face where little are smeared with blue or brown pigment.

If you are going out into the daylight, don't put on your make-up under an electric light. Take your mirror to a window. There's all the difference in the world between the effect in the daytime and under artificial light.

Take a look at your profile if you use rouge. The pattern that is flattering when you face the mirror may not be so good when viewed from the side. One can't be too careful when playing with complexion make.

The abdomen, lacking the support of bony structure, can be kept flat only by muscular control. Your weight may be perfect and you can still have a tummy and a spreading bipine. The daily figure program provides the exercise necessary to strengthen the figure-controlling muscles.

Here is a bender that will give you a trim waist. This exercise is a three-way bend. The POSITION Sit on the floor, knees straight and feet stretched wide apart, arms stretched overhead and hands clasped.

MOVEMENT Keeping the knees together, bend at the waist, well to the side. Then return to position, and bend forward, straight up, and bend to the other side. Relax and repeat an complete time, later 12, and finally 25.

The following is a stream-lined exercise that gives you one. Its special emphasis is on the abdomen, drawing complete contraction of the muscles. POSITION Down on the floor, feet length, face down, hands stretched above the head, weight resting on the hands and put in front, hands flat on the floor or the side. Now, push your feet over your head, tracing the hips with your hands. Weight should rest on the shoulders and elbows. If you use your balance start over from the sitting position.

When balanced with feet up in the air, pull vigorously to shake off the fatty fat. A good rate of speed hits all the bulges. An effective variation of this exercise is to swing the legs backward and forward while still resting on the shoulders, of course. Now try pressing the feet from the floor to the ceiling, keeping the hips straight.

As to your exercise program, always to supply your muscles gradually. Soft muscles protest at being put to work.

These three exercises will build up your resistance to fat.

Beau Catchers Return to Favor

COIFFURES have taken a new trend. Instead of having the hair thinned, some women are growing it even, adding demure hair. The "chub" may be on its way out. Who knows?

During the growing period, when hair is more or less unmanageable, the hair with curly ends is a first aid to the distracted. The braid curls the head, and ringlets fill in these gaps, back of the ears.

If you go in for piled effects, haven't enough, brown-grown hair is a boon. You can get one at the beauty shop. Don't be afraid. They'll fool anybody.

The "ruffled-down" finger wave doesn't look right, one that coiffures of 20 years ago have been revived.

Clipper Airport Here Undecided

Whether Boston will be a stop-over place for American clipper airplanes on their northern route from New York and England was still undecided by Washington officials today. Second Assistant Postmaster General Hattie Roughton regards the necessary half-hour stop here a detriment to the speed of flights, but declared that our minds are still open and we propose to canvass the situation carefully.

Charles Graddick, superintendent of air mail, announced today an air mail route would be started between Bangor and Caribou, Me., on August 1.

One trip daily will be made in each direction. The flights will connect at Bangor with the route between that city and Boston.

The first of a series of six lectures on astronomy, under the auspices of the Dover Institute of Cambridge, will be held in building D of Harvard Observatory, Garden street, Cambridge, tonight.

The lectures will be in two series of three each, "The Solar System and 'The Solar System'."

Horse, Dog Take Up $2,000,000

State's Share About $2,500,000

By JACK CONWAY

THERE WAS $22,759,067 bet at Massachusetts horse and dog tracks at the close of racing on Monday night, according to official figures compiled by Charles F. Connors, chairman of the Massachusetts Racing Commission. The figures for the same period a year ago were $20,765,498. This represents an increase of $2,000,000 in betting.

The state's share of the betting spoils was $1,008,428. If the present rate of betting continues for the remainder of the horse and dog season, Chairman Connors estimates that the state's cut from racing will be between $2,250,000 and $2,500,000.

In 1935, the state received $1,400,000 from racing, while in 1936 it pulled down $2,000,000 from horse and dog tracks.

The public's keen interest in racing apart from the mutuel, figures is shown by the attendance of 1,192,498 persons at horse and dog tracks in this state last year.

Suffolk Downs, which will be back in the racing picture next Monday with its second meeting, topped all tracks. For its first meeting the track had a total of $1,192,498 in bets, against a total of $800,000 for the same number of racing days a year ago.

The state's share from Suffolk Downs racing was $419,049. The 24th meeting was attended by 347,208 persons, daily average attendance of 14,468, against a daily average attendance of 14,727 a year ago. The slight falling off in attendance at Suffolk Downs was due to the policy of turning up on complimentary tickets.

This condition also caused a decrease in the daily average mutuel handle, which was $400,701 this year against a mark of $405,671 in 1936.

AGAWAM SHOWS GAIN

AGAWAM, which has had some of its best racing in the past year, had a good season. It had a total of $1,192,498 in bets, against a total of $800,000 for the same number of racing days a year ago.

The state's share from Agawam racing was $419,049. The 24th meeting was attended by 347,208 persons, daily average attendance of 14,468, against a daily average attendance of 14,727 a year ago.

REVERE TRACK POT OF GOLD

THE REVERE DOG track continues to be a hot spot. It is the most successful racing plant in the world from a financial viewpoint.

The Bay State Greyhound Association, which has been operating at Revere, has had a handle of $1,192,498 in bets, against a total of $800,000 for the same number of racing days a year ago.

DANNO, Casey Pitch CAMPS

Steve Casey and Dan O'Mahony have selected training camps at which they will condition themselves for their first mat bouts at Fenway Park on July 25 under the direction of Paul Bowser.

Casey will pitch his camp at the Municipal Grounds in Boston. O'Mahony will do his at the Fenway Park grounds.

The Casey camp is situated near the O'Mahony home in Cambridge. Dan's training will be on the physical condition of the heavy hitters.

O'Mahony will do his training on the grounds of the Montreal Daily Star. He will also work on the physical condition of the heavy hitters.

The boxing camp is still going strong in Massachusetts and may reach its peak this summer at Fenway Park. I would pick August 1, the day of the 500,000 Massachusetts fight at the date when the state's share of the racing spoils is likely to be at its highest for mutual betting.

Massachusetts has yet to have a million-dollar betting day at any track. If this mark is ever reached, it will be at Fenway Park.

Nationalism: Park had a million-dollar betting day last Labor Day. It was the only day in the state's history when the state's share of the racing spoils was at its highest for mutual betting.

TONY MANERO NEAR BRINK

Carnoustie, Scotland, July 8 (AP) — Led by English Reginald Whitcombe's three-under-par 70 for 142, the contenders for the British open golf championship gave par a thorough going over in today's second round of the tournament.

Whitcombe, 36-hole total was good enough for a two stroke margin over Ed J. Low, whose 70 led the first round, and Charles A. Whitcomb, brother Reginald's senior by three years and captain of the British Ryder Cup team.

Three strokes further back was Tony Manero, a 21-year-old American who had a 71 for 143. He had a 70 for 142 in the first round, but a 71 for 143 in the second round.

N.E. Trade Continues Above '36

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

The advent of July was expected to mean the continuation of a sharper than normal trade slump. Yet in the New England area these expectations have not been realized in view of the unfavorable influence of labor difficulties, both locally and in other sections of the country.

The current Dun & Bradstreet review of New England business conditions places activity at about 10 per cent above last year. This is a matter for real satisfaction when one recalls that many months ago it was expected that the trade would touch a new peak in July of a year ago. If trends continue to point toward a slump, the recovery in September will take place. There is a recovery in the trade which is not a mere recovery but a new order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order.

Freight car loadings for last week are placed at more than 50 per cent above last year. This is a matter for real satisfaction when one recalls that many months ago it was expected that the trade would touch a new peak in July of a year ago. If trends continue to point toward a slump, the recovery in September will take place. There is a recovery in the trade which is not a mere recovery but a new order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order.

In the way of review one point must be made. The New England area is showing a recovery in the trade which is not a mere recovery but a new order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order. Our premise for such a recovery was that the trade would be in order.

The pace of the upswing in stock prices in recent months has been too fast to maintain. It is only a minor correction which will place the market in a better position. At the same time when an opportunity is presented to get out of the market, buyers are to take stock of it will be safer for the average investor to decide whether or not he is capable of supporting a broad market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market.

Industries as a group have risen since the last July. It is not yet out of the market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market. The market has been here for nearly a year but it is not yet out of the market.
